

Primate Society of Great Britain
Winter Meeting 2008
Primate Conservation:
Measuring and Mitigating Trade in Primates

3rd December 2008, 09:00-19:00
Meeting Rooms of the Zoological Society of London,
Regent's Park, London NW1 4RY

Topics: bushmeat trade, traditional medicine trade, CITES implementation, roles of zoos and rescue centres in mitigating trade, genetics as a tool to monitor trade, alternative livelihood strategies, conservation education, reintroduction.

Bill McGrew will present the Osman Hill Memorial Lecture; Ian Redmond will sign his new book, The Primate Family Tree

Contributions are welcome for a special volume of Endangered Species Research: <http://www.int-res.com/journals/esr/esr-specials/>

Prices: Full Member - £25

Non-member: £40

Pre-registration is encouraged

Student member: £15

Student non-member: £25

Please email registration@psgb.org

Poster abstract deadline: 15 November 2008. Posters are welcome on all topics of interest to PSGB members; presenters of posters on the selected topic are welcome to contribute to the edited volume. See www.psgb.org

For further information, please contact Giuseppe Donati at gdonati@brookes.ac.uk